Program: AIR FORCE J.R.O.T.C.

Aerospace Science 1

Course Number	Abbreviation	Number of Credits	CTE Hours	State Service ID
68410000	JROTC 1	1		PES00004

Prerequisite: Application

A blended course designed to accommodate first, second, and third year cadets in the same classroom. The goal is to promote citizenship, develop leadership skills and build self-discipline. It includes instruction in air and space fundamentals, drill and ceremonies, physical education, health, global studies and character education. The primary Aerospace Science study area in 2016-2017 is "A Journey into Aviation History." The emphasis is on civilian and military contributions to aviation; the development, modernization, and transformation of the Air Force; and a brief astronomical and space exploration history. The primary study area for Leadership Education in 2016-2017 is "Citizenship, Character, and Air Force Tradition." It instills elements of good citizenship, develops informed citizens; strengthens and develops character; develops study habits and time management; and wear of the Air Force uniform. Other topics include drill and ceremonies, health/wellness and military traditions. The Wellness/Physical Fitness portion of the course is an exercise program focused upon individual base line improvements. The goal is to motivate AFJROTC cadets to lead active, healthy lifestyles beyond program requirements and into their adult lives. Cadets will be given the opportunity to put into practice the wellness concepts that are taught in Leadership Education. AFJROTC 1 is an elective credit that can be used to fulfill the P.E. requirement. Group activities include community service projects, military installation visits, Military Ball, Field Day, Awards Night and individual/team physical training activities. Additional activities may include Color Guard, Drill Team, Awareness Presentation Team, Model Rocket Team, Radio-Controlled Aircraft Team, PT Team and Academic Team.

Aerospace Science 4

Course Number	Abbreviation	Number of Credits	CTE Hours	State Service ID
68440000	JROTC 4	1		03160400

Prerequisite: Application

A course designed for fourth and select third year cadets to lead/manage cadet corps activities. The cadets will lead the corps using an organizational structure similar to an active-duty Air Force Group. The Aerospace Science course, "Management of the Cadet Corps", consists of hands-on experience that affords cadets the opportunity to put the theories of previous leadership courses into practice. The cadets under the supervision of the Senior Aerospace Science Instructor and the Aerospace Science Instructor will do all the planning, organizing, coordinating, directing, controlling, and decision-making. They practice their communication, decision-making, personal-interaction, managerial, and organizational skills. The Leadership Education course, "Principles of Management", is a course that provides exposure to the fundamentals of management. The text contains many leadership topics that will benefit students as well as provide them with some of the necessary skills needed to put into practice what they have learned during their time in AFJROTC. The Wellness/Physical Fitness portion is an exercise program focused upon individual base line improvements. The goal is to motivate JROTC cadets to lead active, healthy lifestyles beyond program requirements and into their adult lives. Cadets will be given the opportunity to put into practice the wellness concepts that are taught in Leadership Education. Group activities include community service projects, military installation visits, Military Ball, Field Day, Awards Night and individual/team physical training activities. Additional activities may include Color Guard, Drill Team, Awareness Presentation Team, Model Rocket Team, Radio-Controlled Aircraft Team, PT Team and Academic Team.

Course Number	Abbreviation	Number of Credits	CTE Hours	State Service ID
68450000	STF MANGMT HNRS	1		85000JRS

Prerequisite: Application, enrolled in JROTC 1/2/3 or 4, completed JROTC 1 (required) and AFJROTC 2 (preferred).

Minimum unweighted GPA of 3.0 in previous JROTC courses and minimum overall weighted GPA of 3.5.

In addition to the regular AFJROTC coursework for their appropriate cadet year, honors cadets will complete an honors project. The project can be a research project (documented paper, etc.) or a physical project (science project, working model, etc.) of a personal or professional interest connected to the military or AFJROTC and approved by the Senior Aerospace Science Instructor.

AFJROTC Cadet Leadership Course

Course Number	Abbreviation	Number of Credits	CTE Hours	State Service ID
68460000	JROTC LAB ACT	0.5		85000RTC

Prerequisite: Application

Cadet Leadership Course is a one-week long AFJROTC summer camp held on a university campus designed to teach responsibility, improve self-confidence, build self-discipline, develop leadership skills and strengthen character while using a strict, disciplined Air Force training format. Subjects taught are leadership, drill and ceremonies, physical training, character education, team building and attitude.

Pre-calculus is the preparation for calculus. The course approaches topics from a function point of view, where appropriate, and is designed to strengthen and enhance conceptual understanding and mathematical reasoning used when modeling and solving mathematical and real-world problems. Students systematically work with functions and their multiple representations. The study of Pre-calculus deepens students' mathematical understanding and fluency with algebra and trigonometry and extends their ability to make connections and apply concepts and procedures at higher levels. Students investigate and explore mathematical ideas, develop multiple strategies for analyzing complex situations, and use technology to build understanding, make connections between representations, and provide support in solving problems. Students will need to supply their own graphic calculators.

Prerequisite: Administrative Approval

This course will analyze environmental systems from the biological, chemical and physical aspects. Students will apply TEKS from Biology, Chemistry, and/ or Physics to the study of energy and the ecosystem.

Integrated Physics And Chemistry

Course Number	Abbreviation	Number of Credits	CTE Hours	State Service ID
63210000	IPC	1		03060201

Prerequisite: Alg 1 or concurrent

This course is an introduction to the fundamental sciences of physics and chemistry.

Physics

Course Number	Abbreviation	Number of Credits	CTE Hours	State Service ID
63420000	PHYSICS	1		03050000

Prerequisite: 2 Science Credits & Algebra 2 concurrent

This course is organized as a general physics course. Physics areas include: Newtonian Mechanics, Fluid Mechanics, Thermal Physics, Electricity and Magnetism, Waves and Optics, and Atomic and Nuclear Physics. Physical situations studied are primarily two-dimensional at any angle. Analysis techniques are less graphical and more mathematical.

Physics AP1

Course Number	Abbreviation	Number of Credits	CTE Hours	State Service ID
63420P00	PHYSICS PAP	1		03050000

Prerequisite: 2 Sci. Credits and PAP Alg. 2 or concurrent & PAP Requirements

This is the honors first year physics course. Both two-dimensional and three-dimensional physical situations at multiple angles are explored. Analysis techniques are primarily mathematical. Problems often involve integrating concepts from multiple physics areas.

Course Number	Abbreviation	Number of Credits	CTE Hours	State Service ID
63530A00	PHYSICS AP2	1		A3050004

Prerequisite: Physics and Pre-Cal or concurrent & AP Requirements

In Physics 2, students develop a deep understanding of foundational principles of physics in classical mechanics and modern physics by applying these principles to complex physical situations that combine multiple aspects of physics rather than present concepts in isolation. Students will discuss, confer, and debate with classmates to explain a physical phenomenon investigated in class and design and conduct inquiry-based laboratory investigations to solve problems through first-hand observations, data collection, analysis and interpretation.

Through the study of the six strands in technology applications, students will develop college readiness skills applied to technology, including terminology, concepts, and strategies. Students will learn to make informed decisions about technologies and their applications. Students will learn the efficient acquisition of information using search strategies and the use of technology to access, analyze, and evaluate acquired information. By using technology as a tool that supports the work of individuals and groups in solving problems, students will select the technology appropriate for the task, synthesize knowledge, create solutions, and evaluate results. Students will communicate information in different formats and to diverse audiences using a variety of technologies. Students will analyze and evaluate the results.

Students will collaborate with one another, their instructor, and various electronic communities to solve the problems presented throughout the course. Through data analysis, students will identify task requirements, plan search strategies, and use computer science concepts to access, analyze, and evaluate information needed to solve problems. By using computer science knowledge and skills that support the work of individuals and groups in solving problems, students will select the technology appropriate for the task, synthesize knowledge, create solutions, and evaluate the results. Students will learn digital citizenship by researching current laws and regulations and by practicing integrity and respect. Students will gain an understanding of the principles of computer science through the study of technology operations, systems, and concepts.

Discrete Mathematics for Computer Science

Course Number	Abbreviation	Number of Credits	CTE Hours	State Service ID
7201000C	DISCRETE MATH	1	1	03580370

Prerequisite: Algebra II

Discrete Mathematics provides the tools used in most areas of computer science. Exposure to the mathematical concepts and discrete structures presented in this course is essential in order to provide an adequate foundation for further study. Discrete Mathematics is generally listed as a core requirement for Computer Science majors. Course topics are divided into six areas: sets, functions, and relations; basic logic; proof techniques; counting basics; graphs and trees; and discrete probability. Mathematical topics are interwoven with computer science applications to enhance the students' understanding of the introduced mathematics. Students will develop the ability to see computational problems from a mathematical perspective. Introduced to a formal system (propositional and predicate logic) upon which mathematical reasoning is based, students will acquire the necessary knowledge to read and construct mathematical arguments (proofs), understand mathematical statements (theorems), and use mathematical problem-solving tools and strategies. Students will be introduced to discrete data structures such as sets, discrete functions, and relations and graphs and trees. Students will also be introduced to discrete probability and expectations.
